

Instructions for submitting an entry for the Owen Prizes competition, 2013

General notes:

- Students may submit entry portfolios in one, two, or all three categories.
- Each portfolio should consist of a cover sheet with the entrant's name and contact information, followed by the entrant's creative work with all identifying information removed. This will allow contest judges to read all submissions "blind."
- All portfolios should be submitted in duplicate.
- All portfolios should be placed in the appropriate entry boxes in Confer 231 before 4 pm, on Friday, March 1st.
- Each prize will recognize the overall quality of all the work submitted in the portfolio, not the excellence of an individual piece within the portfolio.

Instructions for specific genres:

For Fiction and Non-Fiction:

The maximum length (not including cover sheet) of a portfolio is 15 double-spaced pages in twelve point font. A portfolio might include one fifteen-page piece, or it might include a fifteen-page excerpt from a longer work, or it might include several shorter pieces or excerpts adding up to fifteen pages. If excerpting, entrants should feel free to include a paragraph explaining, introducing, or contextualizing the excerpted work.

For Poetry:

The maximum length (not including cover sheet) of a portfolio is 12 double-spaced pages in twelve-point font. A portfolio may consist of one or many poems. Excerpts from longer works are also appropriate, and may be accompanied by a paragraph explaining, introduction, or contextualizing the work.

Instructions for submitting an entry for the Owen Prizes competition, 2013

General notes:

- Students may submit entry portfolios in one, two, or all three categories.
- Each portfolio should consist of a cover sheet with the entrant's name and contact information, followed by the entrant's creative work with all identifying information removed. This will allow contest judges to read all submissions "blind."
- All portfolios should be submitted in duplicate.
- All portfolios should be placed in the appropriate entry boxes in Confer 231 before 4 pm, on Friday, March 1st.
- Each prize will recognize the overall quality of all the work submitted in the portfolio, not the excellence of an individual piece within the portfolio.

Instructions for specific genres:

For Fiction and Non-Fiction:

The maximum length (not including cover sheet) of a portfolio is 15 double-spaced pages in twelve point font. A portfolio might include one fifteen-page piece, or it might include a fifteen-page excerpt from a longer work, or it might include several shorter pieces or excerpts adding up to fifteen pages. If excerpting, entrants should feel free to include a paragraph explaining, introducing, or contextualizing the excerpted work.

For Poetry:

The maximum length (not including cover sheet) of a portfolio is 12 double-spaced pages in twelve-point font. A portfolio may consist of one or many poems. Excerpts from longer works are also appropriate, and may be accompanied by a paragraph explaining, introduction, or contextualizing the work.