Gustavus Adolphus
Semester in Sweden Program
J-term and Spring Semester Only

Application Deadline: March 1 for the following spring

SWEDEN—A modern, multicultural and diverse nation that is a unique northern European country and yet a country integrated with the rest of the Europe. No prior language study required.

COURSES* - 2009 program

- The Sami, The Indigenous People of The North—Students will live in Jokkmokk in Swedish Samiland, and will be in daily contact with Sami students and participate in traditional Sami activities. They will attend the annual Sami Winter Fair, a weeklong event that has been held since the early 1600s in February. Fulfills NWEST general education requirement.
- People and Politics—With Professor Lennart Sacrédeus, a member of the Swedish parliament and former member of the EU parliament, students will examine contemporary political issues and positions in Sweden vis-à-vis the EU of Sweden and the other Nordic countries. Fulfills SOSCI general education requirement.
- Sweden Today—A comprehensive, interdisciplinary course that will cover significant events in the history of Sweden focusing on contemporary Sweden.
- The Study of Nature/The Natural Environment—Students will survey Sweden’s achievements in the natural sciences, receive formal instruction in glacial geology with field research, and study current environmental laws and policies.
- Identity—An examination of the nature and process of migration using emigration from Sweden to the U.S. and recent immigration to Sweden as case studies. Fulfills LARS general education requirement.

*Courses will differ slightly from year to year depending on the interests and expertise of the faculty leader.

FACULTY LEADER
Roland Thorstensson,
Scandinavian Studies
507-933-7423, rollo@gac.edu

APPLICATIONS
Stop by the Center for International and Cultural Education
Jill Fischer, Study Abroad Advisor
507-933-7546
jfische4@gac.edu

Gustavus Faculty Led Semester Program
Center for International and Cultural Education, Carlson International Center