

Personal Property

Students, faculty, staff and volunteers should insure their own personal property. The College does not carry insurance for loss or damage to personal property, regardless if the personal property resides on campus property (e.g. office, residence hall room, parking lot) or if the personal property is used during official College travel (e.g. conference, music tour, study away).

In the event of a loss or damage to personal property, the owner should file a claim against their individual homeowners/rents policy.

[See the Gustavus Adolphus College Travel Policy for the College's policy regarding use of personal vehicle for transportation]