ABSTRACT:

The Student Papers and Theses collection consists of students' course writings starting in 1895 and continuing through the present. Early materials were theses written by students prior to graduation. Later papers have been acquired from various students and professors. Although English is the standard language for most papers, there are a number of works written in Swedish. Primarily, these date before 1914. Local college history was the concern of many papers written during the 1980s and early 1990s. Early papers are either written or printed while later works are typed. Arrangement is chronological and then alphabetical by author's surname.
