

The purpose of the Gustavus Institutional Repository (IR) is to provide faculty, staff, and students a way to showcase their scholarship and make it available to the world. Works chosen for inclusion in the IR will be accessible to anyone and discoverable through search engines.

In order to be included in the IR, faculty must either a) hold the copyright to the work and have not assigned exclusive publication rights to a publisher or b) must have an agreement with a copyright-holding publisher that allows public deposit of the work in some form. The SHERPA/RoMEO database offers a summary of many journal publishers' permissions granted during a copyright transfer. If you are unsure of the work's copyright status and whether you have the right to make a version of it freely available, we will do what we can to help you make that determination. Authors must also comply with copyright and the fair use of copyrighted material used within their works.

In order to submit work (an article, conference presentation, poster, or other scholarship) to the IR, please read and sign the deposit agreement, then complete the form below and attach the file. I grant Gustavus Adolphus College the non-exclusive perpetual right to distribute my work over the internet through its Institutional Repository. I further grant the College the right to transfer the work to any format or medium now known or later developed for preservation and access to the work. Nothing in the agreement changes the work's copyright status.

I warrant that:

- the Work is my original work and does not, to the best of my knowledge, infringe or violate any rights of others nor does the deposit violate any applicable laws.
- I have the authority and/or have all necessary rights to permit Gustavus Adolphus College to use, duplicate and distribute the Work and that any third-party owned content is clearly identified and acknowledged within the Work.
- I release the university from any liability in connection with its use of the work.
