The group had a very small gathering in the fall with informal discussion.

The group will hold its next meeting this coming Friday afternoon and evening, after the Crown Council meeting, in conjunction with the Scandinavian Studies Department’s annual Senior Colloquium presentations.

The group will discuss ways the group has been and can continue to be helpful to the college in the future in light of shifting strategic priorities. The GSAB is now at a transition point in its evolution as the initiatives the group has initiated and worked on are either completed, continuing in process, or have not yet been implemented due to staffing and/or funding priorities and resource limitations.
