

2020 FYRE Program

Student Interest Form

Project ranking and faculty mentor signatures

(applicant name)

You are required to gather the signatures of a minimum of three faculty mentors offering project opportunities through the FYRE Program this summer. This constitutes evidence that you have met with these potential research advisors face-to-face before submitting your application. Please read the project descriptions (www.gustavus.edu/research/FYRE/opportunities_2020.php) and contact the faculty mentors for the projects you find most interesting. Faculty mentors will be interested in speaking with you about their projects, but you must recognize that their availability may be limited due to teaching or other commitments. Thus, it is imperative that you contact them early in your application process to make sure you are able to meet with them before the application deadline.
